Executive Office for Immigration Review Announces New YouTube Channel

FALLS CHURCH, Va. – The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) today announced that it has established a YouTube channel to offer its stakeholders another medium in which to acquire information about its policies and programs.

EOIR's first YouTube video is a training session on its recently issued final rule titled, Recognition of Organizations and Accreditation of Non-Attorney Representatives. This training video provides an overview of the new rule with a focus on the renewal process for already recognized organizations and accredited representatives.

The training video can be found at: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UChnSMSpkWRy9GaQnqyxQgmng>. Please note that EOIR's website, www.justice.gov/eoir, will continue to be the agency's primary source of information online.

The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) is an agency within the Department of Justice. Under delegated authority from the Attorney General, immigration judges and the Board of Immigration Appeals interpret and adjudicate immigration cases according to United States immigration laws. EOIR's immigration judges conduct administrative court proceedings in immigration courts located throughout the nation. They determine whether foreign-born individuals – whom the Department of Homeland Security charges with violating immigration law – should be ordered removed from the United States or should be granted relief from removal and be permitted to remain in this country. The Board of Immigration Appeals primarily reviews appeals of decisions by immigration judges. EOIR's Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer adjudicates immigration-related employment cases. EOIR is committed to ensuring fairness in all of the cases it adjudicates.
